in some cases the toe nail infection may become so severe that the only way to treat the infection is to completely remove the entire toe nail so that a healthier one can grow in its place.

"i remember a distributor coming by

"i going to appreciate in the event you continue this in future

during the summer i told my parents and began to transition